

Is it time ? Or are we stuck in here ?

Do we break the cage ? or is it just a frame ?

Can we go further, than imagination ?

It's all about (2x) evolution/revolution (2x)

...

We've thrown away the old institutions. And we have rethought the United Nations.

We have destroyed our culture of consumption

Together, we all have a vision

(A society of our creation)

We'll make a community, where we're really free

With solidarity, responsibility

(And) a lot of empathy

But how to make it a reality?

Well, (Maybe) Education is the key? (spoken)

With assemblies, we're building communities

We disagree, then agree, we find new ideas

Conflict is for us an opportunity

That helps us create new narratives

Can we find a place in the wilderness

Can we love each other with tenderness

We learn how to live as a community

With diversity we create unity

Can we live in balance with nature and the other

Think of all the boundaries we could blur?

We have this opportunity in front of our eyes

We are in the dark of night,

and we're waiting for the sunrise

So let's enjoy the view, and make it true (2x)
